

1st May 1936.

Dear Vice-Chancellor,

On Friday, June 26th, the Duchess of Kent is coming to Bedford College to present the Florence Nightingale Certificates to our International Students. Can I persuade you to honour the College on the same occasion and come and speak to the students? It would be delightful if you could, particularly so as you were, I understand, instrumental in helping these students in earlier years, both by providing them with facilities for their practical work, and by lecturing to them on Hospital Administration. I enclose a copy of the proposed order of procedure for the afternoon.

Yours very truly,

Principal.
