

Nursing Studies

1st Draft

Sociology

The aim of the course is to discuss the significance of the social context within which nurses perform their work:

The nature of social reality; sociological perspectives; traditional and industrial societies; urban and rural communities; ethnic minorities; the family in society; gender roles; the nature of social order and unity; social problems in modern society; social pathology; social stratification; authority and power; bureaucracy in modern society; modern occupations and professions.

Social theory of class

