Dear Marion,

I have been attempting to tackle your problem of paediatric experience over the past few days but without very much success within the Middlesex Hospital. The reason for this lack of success is the number of basic learners who will be in the paediatric department in the Autumn of this year and the fact that there will be a relocation of paediatric beds taking place at approximately the same time.

We may however be able to provide experience in other hospitals within the district but I won't be sure about this for another couple of weeks but I will contact you as soon as I have any definite news.

Yours sincerely,

R. A. HOY, (MR.)
Director of Nurse Education.
