Dear Mrs. Munkhara,

I am having to wonder for Pans, but before you want to send me a line to thank me so much for all your help. It was so well, it is a great relief to have it all over. Most of the students have left, & the house is very silent, but I shall meet six of them again in Paris, when they are spending some or five days.

The dinner was a great success, Mr Reid went a brilliant speech!

When are we going to see you in Paris again?

With very kind and sincere

Yours sincerely
Margaret Peirce
