Dear Madam,

22nd September, 1931.

I am enclosing the announcement and lecture list of the Education Department of the College of Nursing for the session 1931-1932 in case this might be of interest to your members.

Among the various courses of lectures, those on Tropical Diseases are specially interesting to those who are thinking of taking up nursing abroad, and there is, this year, a course of lectures on Ophthalmic Nursing, with opportunities for practical nursing demonstrations at the Westminster Ophthalmic Hospital. We are also arranging this year a special course of instruction in Public Speaking and Committee Procedure, which should, it is felt, be of special interest to senior nurses and those contemplating administrative work.

I should be much obliged if you would bring these courses to the notice of your members.

Yours faithfully,

H. C. Parsons

H.C. Parsons.
