Dear Ron,

re: Paediatric Experience

I know you are away on holiday but I thought I would write to you in the meantime so that you will find this on your return and can act on it.

I am also pushed because Fraser Lodge where my office is has been sold and I have to pack up my office before knowing where in the College I will move to. This will depend on other departments being moved to Egham but not before September. I will also be losing Nursing Studies Secretary until another one is appointed in October. Therefore, any information I wish to send out to the students prior to their leaving for their vacation will have to be given by mid-July.

All I would ask of you is to let me know the date when and where the students are to report on 4th October to meet the teacher responsible for their paediatric module. Those of my students who will be going to St. Mary's School of Nursing will be attached to a qualified member of staff in each case so that the students will work under direct supervision throughout their placement. Their weekly seminars will cover child development, the nursing care of the sick child, and current issues including research associated with the care of children. I would appreciate it if Middlesex teacher responsible for the paediatric module could arrange seminars along similar lines.

When it has been worked out, I would like a copy of the programme, but for the moment I am anxious merely to obtain date, time, place, name, which I can pass on to the students.

Yours sincerely,

Marion Ferguson,
Director of Nursing Studies
