In accordance with the decision of the Bedford College Committee of the Florence Nightingale International Foundation Miss Virginia Dunbar was authorized to write a thesis on The Origin and Early Development of Two Early English Training Schools for Nurses.

The preparation of the thesis was under the direction of Miss Hallows and Dr Mess, who report as follows:

We feel that Miss Dunbar has assembled some very valuable material and has given a useful interpretation of it.

We think that the preparation of this thesis should be regarded as the equivalent of an advanced course of study in the History of Nursing.

We suggest that a copy of the thesis be offered to be placed in the library of the College of Nursing.
