28th March 1933.

Dear Sir,

The Council of Bedford College learnt with much pleasure at their meeting last week that the League of Red Cross Societies had consented to carry out all the arrangements for the organisation of the courses for International students for the session 1933-34. In reply to the request made in your letter I am directed to say that my Council will be glad to carry on the courses in conjunction with the College of Nursing for that session.

Yours truly,

Secretary of Council.
