Re: Nursing Studies

Thank you for your draft of the regulations upon which you had done a splendid job. I have since then seen Miss Blake and she has agreed to the scheme you and I framed.

The next stage is for the Middlesex to make a submission to the General Nursing Council, and we are busy preparing this now. If the GNC agree to what we propose, then the next stage, as I see it, is for me to make a formal submission to the Academic Board which embraces the whole scheme including consideration of resources.

I will want to discuss this with you in due course.
