Bedford College for Women,
Regents Park,
LONDON, N.W.1.

Dear Miss Jebb,

I am directed to convey to you the following Resolution passed at the Fifth Ordinary General Meeting of the Grand Council of this Foundation, which was held in London during the second week of September:-

"That the Grand Council recognises the value of the International Courses organised by Bedford College for Women in conjunction with the Royal College of Nursing and thanks these two Educational bodies for the great contribution they have made to the work of the Foundation.

In view of the fact that the Grand Council has resolved to review its organisation and programme no decision concerning the revival of these Courses be made."

Would you be kind enough to convey to the Governors of Bedford College for Women the gratitude of the Foundation for their co-operation in the organisation of the International Courses, which were held under the direction of the College. The name of Bedford College for Women means much to the leading nurses in many countries of the world, they will always remember with gratitude their year spent under the guidance of wise and understanding teachers, who assisted them to develop balanced understanding of their special work.

We hope that the results of the present examination of our work will lead to further possibilities for collaboration with the College in the future.

Yours sincerely,

Olive Baggallay
