Miss Monkhouse, 18th July, 1930.
Bedford College for Women,
Regent's Park,
LONDON, N.W. 1.

Dear Miss Monkhouse,
I am leaving the College at the end of the week and before I go I am writing to make some explanation with regard to lecture fees and to explain the reasons for small changes which have been made this session.

Nutrition (8 lectures) £1: 1: 0. no change

Principles of Education and Methods of Teaching (course of 14 lectures the last 2 being optional for International Students) £1: 11: 6.

History of Nursing (10 lectures and 1 lecture visit) £1: 8: 0. no change

Training School Administration (20 lectures) £2: 13: 0. no change

Hospital Administration (12 lectures or possibly more) £1: 11: 6.

Tropical Nursing (12 lectures) £1: 8: 0. no change.

Demonstration at National School of Cookery (4) 10: 6.

For the Principles of Education for the session 1929-30 the fee was 2 guineas but it was considered unnecessary for the International Students to attend the last few lectures dealing with the curriculum of training schools for nurses as this part of the syllabus is now covered by Miss Musson's additional lectures.
