Miss Olive E. Monkhouse, Secretary
Bedford College for Women
University of London
London, England

My dear Miss Monkhouse:

May I thank you for the material recently sent to me from the Committee for the Organization of Courses for International Students. I am afraid that I have not made proper acknowledgment of the previous reports. I was under the impression that they all came through Miss Baggallay of the Florence Nightingale International Foundation.

I am much interested in everything relating to the work of these international students and hope this summer to inform myself much more fully about their program so that I may be able to follow the reports more closely and if possible be a little more helpful.

Yours sincerely,

Isabel M. Stewart
